

Who's Killing All the Fish?
The Fishermen?! p.32

Praying With
Bobby Brown p.24

America's Secret
Muslim Prisons
p.40

Abebe Defends
Pop
Narcissism p.81

Heilemann:
Life After Geithner
p.28

NEW YORK

DOUBLE ISSUE
JULY 18-25, 2011

Restaurants

EDITED BY JENNY
MILLER

ON A ROLL Unlikely as it may have sounded, a restaurant specializing in meatballs with mix-and-match sauces, sides, and sandwich rolls was one of last year's biggest success stories. On its way to ground-meat-world domination, the Meatball Shop opens a Williamsburg outpost this week, with a Greenwich Village branch planned for fall. New for Brooklyn is a full bar and a cocktail list that mimics the food menu, with check boxes for liquors and mixers like lavender honey and thyme (170 Bedford Ave., nr. N. 7th St., Williamsburg; 718-551-0520).

ROBIN RAISFELD AND ROB PATRONITE

$4.99 USA/C

0 748
NYMAG.COM