

Events

What's Happening This Week: Foodie Storytelling, West Village Tasting

By Chantal Martineau Mon., Sep. 12 2011 at 2:05 PM

Write Comment

Categories: Events, Featured

 Like

Share

6

 Tweet

6

 Submit

 Pocket

0

 +1

0

Our weekly dining and drinking newsletter features all the hottest epicurean events in the city. Sign up for it here!

Moth Eaten: Adventures in Food

The Great Hall at Cooper Union at 6:30 p.m.

Tuesday, September 13

The Moth's monthly StorySLAM goes foodie this time around with an evening of gastrotales hosted by Padma Lakshmi. David Chang, Gail Simmons, Adam Gopnik, and others are on the bill. Each will read a 10-minute story. Tickets are $8.

The Brooklyn Local

The Tobacco Warehouse, Brooklyn Bridge Park

Saturday, September 17, 11 a.m.

City Harvest is hosting this artisanal market, featuring more than 75 local vendors, including Brooklyn Cured, Fleisher's Grass-fed & Organic Meats, and Liddabit Sweets. Visit the Tasting Tent for dishes from the likes of Frankies Spuntino and Prime Meats.

Taste the West Village

The Yard at P.S. 41

Sunday, September 18, noon

New restaurants join the festivities this year, such as RedFarm, the Meatball Shop, Bell Book & Candle, Lyon, Left Bank, and Spasso. All proceeds from the event go toward P.S. 41 and its Greenroof Environmental Literacy Laboratory. Tickets start at $45.

For more dining news, head to Fork in the Road, or follow us @ForkintheRoadVV.