

the thinking eye

Photographs by Neville Dubow

You are cordially invited to this overview of the late Professor Neville Dubow's oeuvre that spans 30 years and pays tribute to an important photographer and educator. He was director of the Michaelis School of Fine Art (1971-1988), retiring in 1998, and founding director of the Irma Stern Museum.

Curated by Marilyn Martin and Paul Weinberg

Opening speaker, Professor Fritha Langerman
 Director of the Michaelis School of Fine Art on Saturday 16 May 2015 at 10:30 for 11:00
 Closing date, 27 June 2015

---

An additional exhibition downstairs features work by 4th year photography students at the Michaelis School of Fine Art who participated in a workshop run by Josh Ginsburg; they offer contemporary engagements with and reflections on Neville Dubow's practice.

Walkabout organised by the Friends of the Iziko South African National Gallery on Saturday 30 May at 11:00

Cecil Road, Rosebank, Cape Town 7700
 Phone: +27 (21) 685-5686 email: irmastern@uct.ac.za

UCT LIBRARIES

centre for curating the archive