

Bar Review

The Meatball Shop

64 Greenwich Ave.
Bt W. 11th & Perry Sts.
West Village
212.982.7815

Search:

Forward to Friends

See More Photos

See Map

Try our free Party Aid service to find the perfect venue Click here

The Meatball Shop: After impressing even the harshest foodie critics with LES and Williamsburg outposts, Daniel Holzman and Michael Chernow have opened up their third Meatball Shop location in two years, this one for the equally trendy (though slightly older) West Village crowd. This new venues offers more for snowball tikes than Baller's Boozehounds, adding kids' selections to the menu from 3-5pm on school days along with "family packs" to go ($10 per person). Pristine white tiles still line the bar, and the owners are open to cleaning off tiny fingerprints—in fact, they're hoping to draw in a more family-friendly crowd so, unless your inner-child wants to draw on the new white-papered children's tabletops, your drunk forecast may just be Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs. But hey, at least it still rains wine by the glass (starting at $6), carafe ($13-21) or bottle ($24-40) and LES-fave PBR cans ($3).

Reviewed 11/8/11

Categories: After Work Bars - Credit Card - Restaurant - Neighborhood Bars - New Bars
- Older Scene - Shecky's Pick

Neighborhood: West Village

 BOOKMARK  SEND TO PHONE

Get Subway and Bus Directions