

Vicki Cardwell inducted into new SA Sports Hall of Fame

SA & Australian squash great Vicki Cardwell will be one of the first 20 South Australian sporting luminaries to be in-ducted into the new SA Sports Hall of fame.

In a glittering ceremony to take place at the Adelaide Convention Centre on Sat November 20, Vicki will join the likes of Lisa Ondieki (Athletics), Simon Fairweather (Archery), Sir Donald Bradman (Cricket), Gillian Rolton (Equestrian), Phil Smyth (Basketball), Bart Cummings (Horse Racing) and many other household names.

South Australia has produced a number of Australia's squash greats including Doug Stephenson, Jan Miller, Glen Brumby, Dan Jenson, Byron Davis and Chris Dittmar.

As a reminder of Vicki's sporting achievements, here are just some of her career highlights:

World number 1 1980 - 1983

British Open Champion - 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983

World Open Women's Champion - 1983

Australian Women's Open Champion - 6 times

SA women's Champion - 11 times

SA Sports Star of Year - 1987, 1989

Member: Australian Squash Hall of Fame

Member: Australian Sports Hall of Fame

Received the Order of the British Empire Medal (BEM) for services to squash

Vicky, and husband Ian Cardwell, will attend the ceremony along with Squash SA staff and Board members.

For interviews or further information please contact:

Jane Intini

Marketing Manager

Squash SA

M: 0418 835 768

jane@belltone.com.au