

Seven touchdown-worthy Super Bowl packages in New York City

Whether you're rooting for the Broncos or Panthers in Super Bowl 50, you'll want some solid football-ready grub to eat while doing so. For those lacking the skills or time to try their hand at recipes from America's top comfort food chefs, NYC restaurants are hosting beer-soaked viewing parties and offering stellar food-and-drink delivery options. From a whole roasted hog to a bucket of meatballs, be the real game-day MVP on February 8 with these Super Bowl catering packages.

Empellón al Pastor: The East Village outpost of Alex Stupak's Empellon empire has created a deluxe, serves-10 package ($250) loaded with snacky staples like guacamole, tacos (al pastor, chicken) and chicken wings tossed with peanuts and arbol chiles. The packages are available for both pick-up and delivery.

Meatball Shop: Swap garden-variety wings and sliders for meatballs with this Super Bowl special from Daniel Holzman and Michael Chernow's homegrown chain. In addition to the regular large-format takeout menu, get a big bucket of 25 balls with your choice of sauce for $50 on Sunday only.