#Juno is bearing down on the city, and that means it's time to hunker down, check your flashlight batteries, and stock up on food and, more importantly, booze. Do all that, then go take advantage of one of these snow-day food and drink specials being offered up by friendly neighborhood restaurants.

Oh, and we'll continue to update this post, so keep checking back for specials. And if you hear about a deal, let us know on Facebook or Twitter, or in the comments.
