

Welcome to the Learning Lab and Design Studio!

This is a resource portal and community for coaches, trainers, facilitators and others who are eager to learn about and build community about all things groups and teams. You can join us here at the LLDS for six months or a year!

The Learning Lab and Design Studio has emerged out of requests from alumni of the group Coaching Essentials program and other team and group programs I have run since 2004. As practitioners many of us are eager to build community, continue learning and hone our skills. The Learning Lab and Design Studio is a place to do this!

Every month you will have access to:

- 2 group calls each month (The Learning Lab) focusing on team and group themes, as well as an opportunity to also bring your questions to the call
- Access to an ever growing series of templates you can use in your work. You will have access to monthly templates starting from January 2016. A new template is added each month.
- Access to a monthly LLDS article focusing on group or team programs and/or business development. You will have access to all articles starting with January 2016. Articles are added monthly.
- More than 20 hours of audios and videos of our past calls being added each time.
- The building of a community of other practitioners who are dedicated to honing their skills in service to their clients

The cost for your annual membership is $1250 US. A block of five hours of coaching can be added at a deeply discounted rate of $500 for 5 hours (normal pricing is $1500).

More information at: <http://bitly.com/llds2017>

Contact Jennifer with questions at jennifer@potentialsrealized.com or (416)996-8326

