

Delivering Explicit & Engaging Comprehension MINI-LESSONS

ON-DEMAND PROFESSIONAL LEARNING ROOTED IN BEST-PRACTICE STRATEGIES

Course Overview

After developing a road map for teaching comprehension, this course focuses on the scaffold of comprehension mini-lessons to follow. Participants will learn ways to make their whole-class mini-lessons more explicit and dynamic while receiving numerous mini-lesson concepts per comprehension strategy!

Topics:

- Identify a gradual release that guides students from a basic application to a deep understanding of any reading skill/strategy.
- Study grade-specific instructional calendars that spiral through the six comprehension strategies all year long.
- Receive a sequence of classroom-tested mini-lessons that rely on textual evidence to support retelling/summarizing ideas, determining main ideas, visualizing ideas, questioning ideas, making connections, and synthesizing ideas.

- Discover how to adjust instruction to address the same comprehension skills when reading literature (fiction) versus informational texts (nonfiction).
- View various lessons executed and recorded within actual classrooms.
- Learn to blend explicit instruction of individual strategies with all-encompassing close-reading experiences.
- Identify various writing-about-reading products (e.g., constructed and extended responses) that honor students' developmental readiness.

When you complete the course, you'll be able to:

- ▶ Execute comprehension mini-lessons that are short, effective, and powerful.
- ▶ Make reading lessons more visual through anchor charts, Think Alouds, hand signals, concrete triggers, and more.
- ▶ Deliver a multi-week study that acknowledges the developmental progression of comprehension strategies.
- ▶ Execute a yearlong plan that emphasizes spiraling through previously-taught skills, while encouraging students to juggle multiple strategies simultaneously.
- ▶ Implement Kristina's favorite whole-class comprehension mini-lessons.

"I love all of the aha moments that I have during the presentations—everything makes sense. Brilliant! Your energy and enthusiasm make your audience hang on your every word!"

Candy Kramer • principal at Sward School, Oak Lawn, IL

Why Learn More About Comprehension Mini-Lessons?

When teaching reading, the focus should not be on the picture book, the textbook chapter, or the novel. The text is merely a tool. Simply reading a text and talking about its details isn't teaching reading. Rather, precious classroom time must be spent on explicit lessons that teach students six ways to think about texts.

1. Retell a text's relevant details and summarize its important highlights.
2. Determine an author's main idea and reason for writing.
3. Visualize an author's ideas to deepen understanding.
4. Ask questions of a text, make predictions about the ideas, and evaluate effectiveness of the author.
5. Use background knowledge to draw important comparisons and make bigger connections.
6. Synthesize learning, thinking far beyond what a text says and considering what it means and why it matters.

Deliberate instruction on each of the above is imperative. However, a single unit will not be enough. Rather, readers need to spiral through these strategies in several smaller units in order to construct a scaffold of understanding. This allows strategies to be introduced, studied, extended, and deepened throughout the year.

Top Questions Teachers Ask About Comprehension Mini-Lessons

- ▶ How do I honor my curriculum map or reading textbook series and still be responsive to student needs relative to comprehension?
- ▶ How do I prioritize my comprehension mini-lessons over the course of the year?
- ▶ How can I scaffold my comprehension mini-lessons so that the skills taught build on prior knowledge?
- ▶ What kinds of texts and materials can I use to enhance my comprehension mini-lessons?
- ▶ What principles should I use to guide my planning of comprehension mini-lessons?
- ▶ How can I make my comprehension mini-lessons more effective?
- ▶ What kinds of reading tasks should I have students do following the mini-lessons?

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Kristina Smekens

Kristina Smekens is a full-time literacy consultant who has built a reputation for using enthusiasm, humor, and common sense to equip K-12 educators with practical, demystifying strategies for teaching reading and writing.

As president and lead consultant for Smekens Education, Kristina is constantly developing new strategies for helping teachers to meet the demands of today's College and Career-Ready Standards. She and her two full-time associates share those strategies with teachers across the United States and beyond through on-site school trainings, regional seminars, and an always-growing pool of print, digital, and video resources.

A PRESENTER

Kristina has a gift for making the complex seem simple—for showing teachers how to meet the needs of readers and writers by bridging the gap between education research and practical, classroom-tested strategies that work. When she presents at state and national conferences, teachers flock to her sessions because they know Kristina will share strategies they can use in their own classrooms the very next day.

But beyond providing teachers with practical classroom techniques, Kristina is also a master at giving educators an injection of motivation and encouragement to help them return to their classrooms with the confidence and excitement they need to execute change. In fact, more than 17,000 educators rely on a monthly “shot in the arm” from Kristina as subscribers to her monthly email newsletter, “Big Ideas.”

AN AUTHOR

Well known for offering innovative ideas, Kristina has created more than 50 “Smekens Originals,” a compilation of books, guides, and classroom tools designed to help teachers implement best-practice literacy strategies. Among the most popular of these resources are her best-selling books, Launching the Writer's Workshop: Grades K-2 and Grades 3-12. Other popular publications include The Trait Mate: 6-Traits Starter Lessons, Connecting Comprehension & Composition, Sing & Comprehend, Close Reading Questions for Literature, Close Reading Questions for Informational Text, Trait Trackers, and Serving Up Synthesis. Additionally, Kristina is the author of Trait-Based Writing: Lessons and Activities (Scholastic, 2009).

A CRAFTER

Beyond books and physical teacher tools, Kristina has also created a library of more than 50 on-demand training videos that are utilized by teachers around the world. With topics ranging from “Building Kid-Friendly Writing Rubrics” to “Achieving a Close Reading,” each of Kristina’s “webPD” videos uses a seminar-style format to capture her energy and enthusiasm while conveying her teacher-friendly ideas.

BACKGROUND

Kristina earned her BA in English and education at Michigan State University. Prior to her full-time consulting career, she was an accomplished high school English and journalism teacher in Michigan and Indiana. A leader in state and national scholastic journalism endeavors, Kristina authored a journalism textbook and teachers’ guide for Walsworth Publishing in 2002.

Over the past 12 years, she has been blessed to work and learn with hundreds of schools and thousands of teachers throughout the Midwest. She was awarded the Excellence in Reading Award by the Indiana State Reading Association in 2013 for her contributions to literacy in Indiana.

Kristina lives in Warren, Indiana with her husband and business partner Brady, their three teenage children, and a rambunctious family dog named Buddy.

“Kristina just takes the guess work out of everything to make it ALL make sense!”
