The Meatball Shop now has five locations across NYC – all open until 4 a.m. on weekends – but the original Lower East Side restaurant is worth heading to first. The customizable menu ensures you'll get whatever meatball dish your heart desires. In the mood for breakfast? Top any dish with the "family jewels," or a fried egg. Want a late-night carb fest? Go for the meatball smash ($10), two meatballs smushed into a toasted brioche bun with a choice of sauce and cheese.
