EAT AND DRINK Super Bowl food: NYC catering options

By Ariel Kanter January 17, 2016

Watching the Super Bowl at home has its benefits.

There are no crowds, no sticky floors, no one is rooting against your team and you can actually hear what's going on.

The only thing you might be missing is the delicious, greasy snacks or gourmet bites that you'd find at bars and restaurants showing the game. But don't worry – the following all offer winning catering and take-out options that will keep you satisfied (and maybe a little stuffed) from kick-off to the final seconds.

The Meatball Shop

Never one to miss a "balls" joke, The Meatball Shop will have plenty for football fanatics for the Feb. 7 game. The day's take-out special will be a Bucket O' Balls ($50), which is exactly what it sounds like: a huge bucket of 25 meatballs and your choice of sauce. Order in-store or via phone for pick-up. You can also order from the regular catering menu (must be placed at least 48 hours in advance, 72 hours if ordering sliders). Go for the mini buffalo chicken balls with blue cheese dressing for a twist on the classic game-day app. Multiple locations, themeatballshop.com
