If we could paint antique meat grinders, we'd paint them on everything.

It's hard to pass by NYC's the Meatball Shop without going in for one of their arrangements. Seriously, however you want your bowl of meatballs prepared, consider it done. Ask for family jewels on top and tell 'em we sent you. Chef-owners Daniel Holzman and Michael Chernow have upped their game from last year's meatball sub-themed skateboard deck designed with NYC-based SHUT. This year's model goes back to their humble roots, featuring a hand-painted antique meat grinder and the words "NYC Born & Bred." If there's a better way to pay tribute, let us know.

Buy yours on the Meatball Shop's website or hit the Lower East Side to pick it up in person.
