Hi, I'm Aaron Cozort from Cozort LLC, and you might be asking yo urself, am I too old to learn how to build a website?

00:10

And the answer is certainly not. Absolutely not. You are not too old to learn how to build a website. We can teach you how we can walk you through it. If you're taking our course on building church websites, trust me, we'll walk you through every step. But along the way, you'll gain confidence that this is something that's not beyond your ability and not beyond your knowledge level. It doesn't matter how old you are.
