New York sadly won't be represented in America's most-watched sporting event, but that won't stop the city's football lovers from gathering on February 7 to take part in the Super Bowl 50 festivities. Can't fit an entire party in your pint-size studio apartment? Watch the Super Bowl at these restaurants and bars in NYC that will take care of the whole shebang for you, offering price-slashed beer, chicken wings and heaps of sports-bar rowdiness. Game on!

The Meatball Shop

The Chelsea and Williamsburg outposts of Daniel Holzman and Michael Chernow's meatball franchise will screen the game at their downstairs area Underballs. Snack on a game-day pizza-inspired meatball at the restaurant, or take your balls to go with a Bucket of Balls ($50), which comes with 25 meaty spheres and your sauce of choice.
