Checkbox is a no-code platform that enables the digital transformation of regulation. By using our drag and drop Studio, domain experts can convert messy, unworkable processes into easy-to-use, results-driven software in the cloud, all without a developer. With simplicity and intuitive user experience at the forefront of our design, expertise is codified into self-service, interactive decision trees which produce automated documents and conclusions as an output.

Checkbox has helped the following sectors codify expertise and processes:

- + Accounting
- + Financial
- + Legal & tax
- + Health
- + Insurance
- + Compliance
- + Not-for-profit
- + Government

1No Code Application Development

Because you don't engage a developer in order to build applications, the power is with the domain expert rather than the technology, allowing the most natural and hence intuitive application to be created. This also means being able to make changes to the applications very quickly and easily at no additional cost which is very important in keeping up with changing regulation.

3Revenue generating opportunity

Our flexible and highly configurable account management system allows you to provision sub-accounts to your clients at a click of a button. This means being able to licence the solutions you build as SaaS products, under your branding, which you can then sell to your clients.

2Rapid application development and deployment

The Checkbox Studio allows you to rapidly prototype, test and implement your ideas into software which crucial in maintaining a competitive advantage in the technology space. We also handle all of the hosting and infrastructure for you so you can deploy applications you build in a matter of seconds at a click of a button.

4High value data analytics

When users run through your Checkbox-powered applications, the data and inputs are all captured and available to you as a downloadable file. This allows you to discover industry and client trends, which can be used for thought leadership or as a competitive business advantage.
