| Glerapétillant-naturel                                      | Zanatto, Col Fondo di Collina, Veneto, Italy, 2015Fermentation starts in tank then finishes in bottles. Unfiltered and not disgorged makes for a fresh, slightly cloudy experience. Notes of almond kernel, gardenia and ripe pear. Complex and fun at the same time. | 10 / 44 |
| Pinot Nerocharmat method                                    | Lusenti, Fiocco di Rose , Colli Piacentini, Emilia-Romagna, Italy, 2015Light, dry and flowery characters in this rosé style sparkling wine. Raspberries and cherry blossoms on the nose with more red fruit and lemon peel on the palate.                      | 11 / 46 |
| Chenin Blancméthode traditionnelle                          | Francois Chidaine, Montlouis sur Loire, France, NVA complex bouquet of ripe apple, pear and quince, with honey nuances. Distinctly chenin blanc in character. A touch of marzipan adds depth to the dry, stony, precise finish.                                       | 12 / 48 |
| Chardonnay, Pinot Noir,Pinot Meunierméthode champenoise | Marie Weiss, Brut, Champagne, France, NVProduced by Ployez-Jaquemart this lovely, fresh and fun Champagne is the antidote to mass-produced swill. Notes of apple, white peach, brioche, a nice touch of fresh nutmeg and a base of chalky soil tone.                  | 18 / 69 |
