Forget burgers, meatballs may hit the spot if the sun's not shining this weekend.

Hopefully this rainy week will turn into a stunningly sunny weekend. No one wants a washed out Memorial Day weekend, so we'll keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best as we make our plans. We're mostly half-glass-full types anyway.

With that in mind, we'll offer up a few outdoor eats for the coming days, but a few indoor options as well, should Mother Nature not realize it's a holiday weekend. How dare she!

Though burgers, hot dogs, and other grillable items are the standard Memorial Day fare, we'd opt for the just opened Meatball Shop Williamsburg's garden for whiling away a few hungry hours. A garden you ask? Well, a tented garden but a garden nonetheless.
