Time Out says

New York City's hopelessly delicious meatball-centric eatery, the Meatball Shop, is making its way to Venice for a one-night-only pop-up at Sunny Spot. From 5pm-2am, the Meatball Shop guys and Roy Choi will team up to offer signature items from the Meatball Shop's beloved mix-and-match menu. Roy will even create his own special ball for the event, which has us Meatball Shop fans drooling in anticipation. But apparently, no one loves meatballs more than Vans sneakers, who will honor the occasion by designing an extremely limited edition shoe, featuring artwork from the Meatball Shop and Sunny Spot. Guests at the pop-up event will have the opportunity to win pairs throughout the night. Spots at the pop-up will be first come first served, so plan to get there early.
