PLANNING

Neither property is listed, but both lie within a conservation area. Pre-application planning advice from Eden District Council support the principle of residential use on both properties, subject to agreement on final design. Hunter Lane has potential for conversion in respect of the rear extension, the Council are prepared to consider either conversion or demolition and new build. On the William Street Car Park newbuild together with replacement of the garage with a pair of contemporary apartments is considered appropriate. The two properties would be considered separately for purposes of planning applications. A copy of Councils comments available on request.
