Former Dunelm Site

Bridge Road, Wellington

LOCATION

The site is located in the attractive market town of Wellington, which lies approximately 5 miles west of central Telford, 15 miles east of the county town of Shrewsbury and 45 miles west of Birmingham city centre. Convenient access is afforded to the motorway network via Junction 6 of the M54.

The property itself enjoys a prominent roadside location on the edge of Wellington town centre, fronting onto Bridge Road to the north, with a return frontage onto Grooms Alley to the west. The immediate area is predominantly commercial with nearby occupiers including Morrisons, Aldi and Wilkinson. There is some residential development to the west.

The site is well served by public transport and situated within walking distance of both Wellington train station - which has direct links to Birmingham New Street, Shrewsbury, Telford, Wolverhampton and London Euston - and Wellington bus station.

DESCRIPTION

The property comprises a Brownfield site extending to approximately 1.087 acres (0.44 hectares), which is accessed off Bridge Road and currently incorporates the former Dunelm retail store and premises. It essentially consists of two substantial adjoining buildings.

The main two-storey structure was originally purpose built as a cinema in the 1930's and features a white Art Deco facade. The cinema was closed in the 1980's and the building stripped out. The ground floor accommodation was most recently utilised by Dunelm as a fabric store alongside their main retail premises.

Adjoining the former cinema/fabric store to the north is a more modern single storey structure, which probably dates from around 1970. This previously served as Dunelm's main retail store/warehouse.

To the south of the site is a good sized car park, which is largely gravel/hardstanding with space for approximately 45 cars.
