The Meatball Shop packs 'em in in Williamsburg

Day two of BA Grub Crawl Brooklyn found us in Williamsburg at 4:00 p.m. slurping oysters, scarfing meatballs, and drinking something called an "I Got Lillet'd" (mezcal, Lillet blanc, grapefruit, honey, and Angostura bitters). Looking back, we wonder if we ever fully sobered up from day one. (Nope.)

Meatball chef Dan Holzman hosted crawlers in his Brooklyn spot's newly opened private space

Having Holzman around meant crawlers got to ask him question like, "When are you going to open a Meatball Shop in my neighborhood?"
