

The Weekend Playbook

NYC'S 5 BEST EASTER SUNDAY BRUNCHES

PUBLISHED ON 4/16/2014

BY ANDREW ZIMMER

1240

ANDREW ZIMMER

Since Easter is the day that the entire Roman Catholic Church celebrates... uhh... brunch?... we're going heavy on the brunch content this week. Tuesday, we told you about the best brunches in all of NYC, and today, we've got five one-off, just-for-Easter options, including one serving something called a "Bunny Ball".

MEATBALL SHOP

The Meatball Shop: They've had brunch Uptown for some time, but starting Easter Sunday, they're launching it at their 84 Stanton location with "Balls Benedict", "Balls, Biscuits, and Gravy", and the special "Bunny Ball", which's made out of rabbit, rosemary, fennel, and white wine.

f SHARE

TWEET