

Where to watch the Super Bowl in New York City

Super Bowl Sunday is right around the corner and these NYC restaurants and bars are more than ready, with game-day parties and specials

Best Super Bowl parties

The Meatball Shop

The pigskin smackdown will be screened at the Chelsea location's downstairs bar, Underballs, where guests can nosh on free mini buffalo-chicken balls during the first quarter, along with $4 PBRs all night. Rather watch the game at home? Snag a $45 takeout Bucket o' Balls, with 25 meatballs of your choice (chicken, veggie, spicy pork), including a special "pizza ball."
