The Meatball Shop

NITEHAWK CINEMA

The food-friendly cineplex will rep both teams during their big-screen event starting at 6pm. Along with the theater's house hot wings ($5 for five), served tableside, Sam Adams Boston Lager ($6) will be on offer to toast the New England Patriots, while Seattle Seahawks fans can wet their whistle with $7 bottles of Elysian Space Dust IPA. Animal Planet's Puppy Bowl, complete with a kitten-filled halftime show, will air in the lobby. 136 Metropolitan Ave between Berry St and Wythe Ave, Williamsburg, Brooklyn (718-384-3980, nitehawkcinema.com)

THE GANDER

Jesse Schenker's Flatiron restaurant will host its inaugural "Gander Bowl" in the downstairs private dining room from 4pm until the game's end, offering a $55 spread of all-you-can-eat sliders, ribs and macaroni and cheese, as well as a specialty punch and kegs of Budweiser and PBR. And if that's not enough, prove your stomach-expanding skills with a halftime wing-eating contest. 15 W 18th St between Fifth and Sixth Aves

(212-229-9500, thegandernyc.com)

THE MEATBALL SHOP

The pigskin smackdown will be screened at the Chelsea location's downstairs bar, Underballs, where guests can nosh on free mini buffalo-chicken balls during the first quarter, along with $4 PBRs all night. Rather watch the game at home? Snag a $45 takeout Bucket o' Balls, with 25 meatballs of your choice (chicken, veggie, spicy pork), including a special "pizza ball." 200 Ninth Ave between 22nd and 23rd Sts (212-257-4363, themeatballshop.com)

PAULANER

Kicking off at 3pm, the tank-to-table biergarten is offering à la carte game-day bites including spicy chicken wings with yogurt dip ($12) and cheddar-and-bacon-loaded potato skins ($12), along with group-friendly platters ($22 per person) featuring footlong pretzel sandwiches. Prove your own athleticism with a few rounds of beer pong—winner buys the next round. 265-267 Bowery between E Houston and Stanton Sts (212-780-0300, paulanernyc.com)
