

FOOD

Kenmare is the hottest table in town. Chloë Sevigny's brother is behind it, and let's just say good taste runs in the family - 98 Kenmare Street, near Cleveland Place, NY10012-4508, tel: 212 274 9898.

Brunch is de rigueur in this city. Those in the know go to Freeman's for its delicious eggs and salads - Freeman Alley, New York, NY 10002, tel: 212 420 0012.

The Minetta tavern is a great place for dinner. Part New York pub, part Parisian bistro, it belongs to the renowned Pastis and Balthazar group, which says it all - 113 MacDougal Street, NY 10012-1201, tel: 212 475 3850.

Our in-between show snack will be a meatball sub. The Meatball Shop's miniature buns are the best in town - just watch the sauce on your couture - Meatball Shop 84 Stanton Street (near Allen Street), NY10002, tel: 212 982 8895.

The latest food craze to hit Manhattan is the food truck. A hybrid of the humble hot dog stand, these mini-kitchens drive around the city with fans keeping track of their movements via Twitter. GO Burger set up shop at the Phillip Lim + Rag & Bone block party recently and they are sure to play a part at fashion week. Our favourite truck is The Big Gay Ice-Cream truck whose weird and wonderful flavours - Nutella and bacon cone, for example, will thrill.
