

The simple past form is most commonly used to express a completed action in the past. There are two types of verb in the simple past: regular verbs and irregular verbs. Regular verbs are easy because they all have the same ending (+ ed) and they are same for all subjects. Irregular verbs are different, but they are still the same for all subjects.

Examples:

- I went to the shop (verb to go).
- She walked to school yesterday (verb to walk).
- They studied last night (verb to study).
- We listened to the music. (verb to listen).

+ AFFIRMATIVE FORM:

i) Regular verbs Basic form: verb + ed

Examples: Walk - walked

Push - pushed

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I walked
You walked
He walked
She walked
It walked
We walked
You walked
They walked

Variations:

1) If the verb ends in the letter e, just add d to put it in the past simple.

Examples:

Hope - Hoped

Love - Loved

Invite - Invited

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I hoped
You hoped
He hoped
She hoped
It hoped
We hoped
You hoped
They hoped

2) If the verb has one only syllable or ends in a stressed syllable formed by consonant/vowel/consonant, double (x2) the last consonant and add -ed to put it in the past simple.

Example:

Stop - Stopped

Admit - Admitted

Drop - Dropped

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I stopped
You stopped
He stopped
She stopped
It stopped
We stopped
You stopped
They stopped

3) If the verb ends in y, replace the y with -ied.

Example:

Study -> Studied

Carry -> Carried

Try -> Tried

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I studied
You studied
He studied
She studied
It studied
We studied
You studied
They studied

4) If the verb ends in consonant/vowel/consonant and the last syllable is not the stressed syllable (rule applies to infinitive forms with two or more syllables), just add -ed. Example:

Listen -> Listened

Open -> Opened

Visit -> Visited

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I listened You listened He listened She listening It listened We listened You listened They listened

ii) Irregular verbs

Infinitive form	Simple past form
To write	wrote
То рау	Paid
To know	Knew
To meet	Met

To come	Came
To give	Gave

Note how the simple past form is used with all subjects:

I wrote
You wrote
He wrote
She wrote
It wrote
We wrote
You wrote
They wrote

- NEGATIVE FORM:

In the negative, the auxiliary verb did + not is used with all subjects, the contraction didn't can also be used. The main verb remains in the infinitive, so irregular verbs are not used (the past simple form is irregular, but the infinitive form is used in negatives and questions.

Examples:

Auxiliary verb

Main verb (infinitive form)

- I didn't go to the shop (verb to go).
- She didn't walk to school yesterday (verb to walk).

The simple present form is used to express things that are always true/facts and things that are part of your routine/that you do regularly.

Examples:

She speaks French (always true/fact).

She has English class three times a week (part of routine).

He goes to the gym four days a week (part of routine).

SIMPLE PRESENT CONSTRUCTION

+ AFFIRMATIVE FORM

1) Conjugation is the same for all subjects, except he/she/it (third person singular), where an s is added. Other than he/she/it (third person singular), the infinitive form is used for all subjects:

To work	To walk	To stop
I work	l walk	l stop
You work	You walk	You stop
He works	He walks	He stops
She works	She walks	She stops
lt works	It walks	It stops
We work	We walk	We stop
You work	You walk	You stop
They work	They walk	They stop

2) If the verb ends with -sh or -ch, add -es ¬to the he/she/it (third person singular) form in the present simple. The same applies to the verbs do (he/she/it does) and go (he/she/it goes)

To teach	To watch	To wash
I teach You teach He teaches She teaches It teaches We teach You teach They teach	I watch You watch He watches She watches It watches We watch You watch They watch	I wash You wash He washes She washes It washes We wash You wash They wash

3) If the infinitive form ends with y, replace the y with ies.

To try	To study	To cry
l try	I study	l cry
You try	You study	You cry
He tries	He studies	He cries
She tries	She studies	She cries
It tries	It studies	It cries
We try	We study	We cry
You try	You study	You cry
They try	They study	They cry

4) With the verb to have, the he/she/it (third person singular) form is has:

To try

I have You have He has She has It has We have You have They have

- NEGATIVE FORM

The auxiliary verb to do is used to form the negative form. It is used in the negative; do not (contraction: don't) is used for all subjects except he/she/it (third person singular), where does not (contraction: doesn't) is used. The main verb is used in the infinitive form, so s is not added to the main verb with he/she/it (third person singular).

Examples:

She doesn't speak Spanish.

She doesn't have English class three times a week.

He doesn't go the gym.

I don't work You don't work You don't teach He doesn't work She doesn't work It doesn't work We don't work You don't teach He doesn't have She doesn't work It doesn't teach We don't work You don't work You don't work You don't teach You don't have	To work	To teach	To have
They don't work They don't teach They don't have	You don't work He doesn't work She doesn't work It doesn't work We don't work	You don't teach He doesn't teach She doesn't teach It doesn't teach We don't teach	You don't have He doesn't have She doesn't have It doesn't have We don't have

INTERROGATIVE FORM/QUESTION FORM

The auxiliary verb do is also used to create questions, and is positioned before the subject. Do is used with all subjects except he/she/it, where does is used. Again, the main verb is used in the infinitive form, so s is not added to the main verb even when with he/she/it.

Examples:

Does she speak French?

Does she have English class three times a week?

Does he go to the gym?

To work	To teach	To have
Do I work?	Do I teach?	Do I try?
Do you work?	Do you teach?	Do you try
Does he work?	Does he teach?	Does he try?
Does she work?	Does she teach?	Does she try?
Does it work?	Does it teach?	Does it try?
Do we work?	Do we teach?	Do we try?
Do you work?	Do you teach?	Do you try?
Do they work?	Do they teach?	Do they work?

IMPERATIVE

The present simple is also used to create the imperative, which is used to give orders or instructions.

Affirmative imperative: Used to tell someone what to do. The affirmative form is formed by the infinitive.

Eat the meal Talk to me Be quiet!

Negative: the negative form is used to tell someone what not to do. It is formed by do not (contraction: don't) + the infinitive form of the verb.

Don't talk to me Don't read this book Don't do that.

The simple future form is used to express actions that will happen in the future. It is created using the modal verb will (different contractions are also used) and the main verb is always in the infinitive form.

Examples:

I will arrive at 6 o'clock.

Brazil will win the World Cup.

+AFFIRMATIVE FORM

Structure:

Subject + will + infinitive verb

1	will	go	1	will	work
You	will	go	You	will	work
He	will	go	He	will	work
She	will	go	She	will	work
lt	will	go	It	will	work
We	will	go	We	will	work
You	will	go	You	will	work
They	will	go	They	will	work

The contraction of subject + will is more commonly used in informal speech and writing.

Contraction + infinitive verb

I'll You'll He'll She'll It'll We'll You'll They'll	go go go go go go	I'll You'll He'll She'll It'll We'll You'll They'll	work work work work work work work
--	----------------------------------	--	--

NEGATIVE FORM

To create the negative form, the modal verb will is followed by not.

Structure:

Subject + will + not + infinitive verb

1	will	not	go	1	will	not	work
You	will	not	go				work
He	will	not	go				work
She	will	not	go				work
lt	will	not	go				work
We	will	not	go				work
You	will	not	go				work
They	will	not	go				work

The contraction of will + won't is won't, and won't is used much more commonly in informal writing and speech

Subject + won't + infinitive verb

I	won't	go.	1	won't	work.
You	won't	go.		won't
He	won't	go.		won't
She	won't	go.		won't

We	won't	go.		won't
You	won't	go.		won't
Thev	won't	go.
• •		5	rney	won't	work.

The structure is very similar to the affirmative form, but here will comes at the start.

Structure:

Will + subject + infinitive verb?

Will go? Will you go? Will he go? Will she go? Will it go? Will go? we Will you go? Will they go?
