

2016 Census

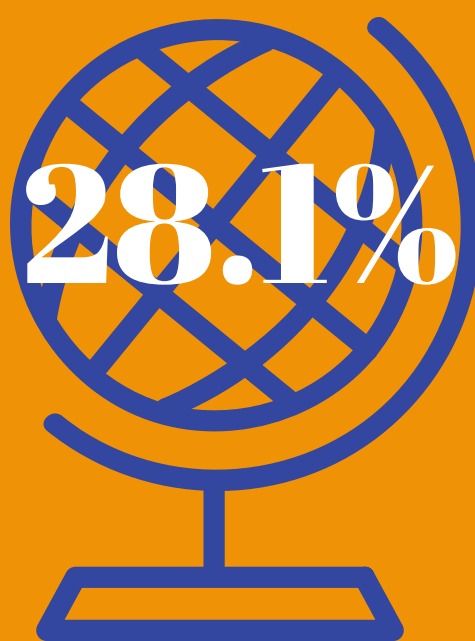

How diverse is the Gold Coast?

1/3

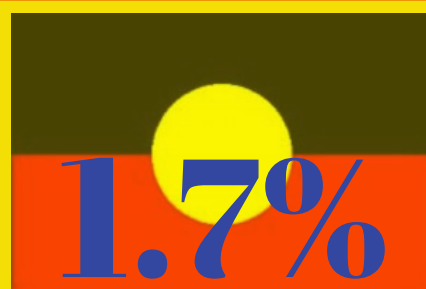

The Gold Coast population has grown by over 60 000 persons since 2011. Of this number, ~19 000 are foreign born.

The median age of gold coast residents. Slightly older than the national median of 38.

The percentage of Gold Coast residents born overseas. Thus, the Gold Coast is more diverse than the previous census result of 27.8% in 2011.

While still lower than national averages, the population of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders on the Gold Coast has grown by ~50% since 2011.

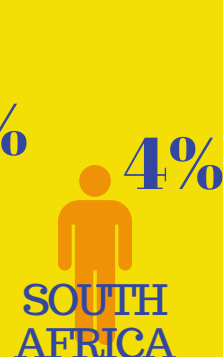

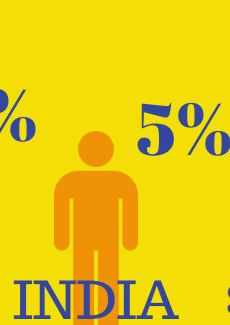

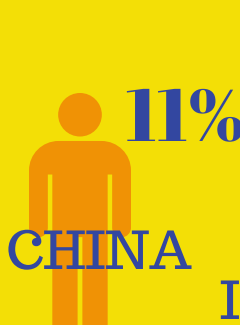

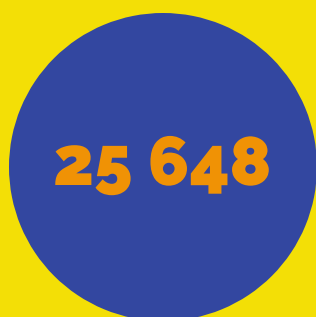

The most common non-English languages spoken are:

1. Mandarin (9 300)
2. Japanese (5 815)
3. Korean (3 480)
4. Spanish (3 148)
5. German (2 419)

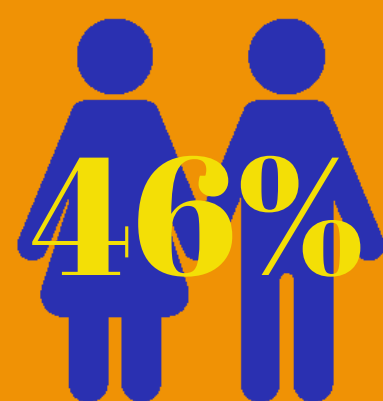

Households where a non-English language is spoken.

New Arrivals From Overseas Since Last Census

For the first time, 'no religion' was the most selected religious affiliation response at 32%. Followed by Catholic (21%), Anglican (16%) and Uniting Church (4%).

Of Gold Coast residents have at least one parent who was born overseas